

The image shows the entrance to the District 7 Sports Complex. A large, arched metal structure with a black frame and cross-bracing spans the road. A white rectangular sign with a red border is mounted in the center of the arch. The sign contains the text "DISTRICT 7" in large, bold, black capital letters, followed by "SPORTS COMPLEX" in slightly smaller bold black capital letters, and "HOME OF THE TIGERS" in a smaller font at the bottom. The arch is supported by three brick pillars. The central pillar is the tallest and has two black and red striped poles on top. The two side pillars are shorter. The road is paved and leads into the complex. On the left side of the road, there is a black metal gate and a small landscaped area with a tree and some bushes. In the background, there is a parking lot with several cars and some buildings. The sky is overcast.
